“Meekness” The Eighth Characteristic of “the Fruit of the Spirit”

Part 2

Chuck Northrop

Meekness ultimately culminates in a proper attitude towards God. This is the attitude of Jesus when He declared, "For I came down from heaven, not to do mine own will, but the will of him that sent me" (John 6:38). Also, this attitude is displayed in His prayer on the mount of Olives, "Father, if thou be willing, remove this cup from me: nevertheless not my will, but thine, be done" (Luke 22:42). Today, all of God's will for all mankind is declared in His inspired word — the Bible (2 Timothy 3:16-17; 2 Peter 1:3). How do we approach the Bible? Do we approach it like Jesus approach the will of the Father without dispute, resistance, and murmuring? With these thoughts, consider the exhortation of James, "Wherefore lay apart all filthiness and superfluity of naughtiness, and receive with meekness the engrafted word, which is able to save your souls" (James 1:21).

There are many good examples of meekness within Scripture. In Genesis 13, a dissension arose between Abraham's herdsmen and Lot's. Abraham, however, did not want strife to come between him and his nephew, and in meekness, he gave Lot who was younger the first choice of where to feed his herds and take his family. Abraham did not demand his rights of being the elder, but with meekness and without complaint, allowed Lot to take the better land.

Moses is another powerful example. The first time the word "meek" is used in the Bible concerns this great man of faith. Number 12:3 says, "Now the man Moses was very meek, above all the men which were upon the face of the earth." He was meek because he humbled himself and submitted to the will of God. Even though he saw himself unable to speak, in meekness he obeyed God and lead the children of Israel out of bondage. As the writer of Hebrews records, he saw the wealth of Egypt, and what it meant to be the son of Pharaoh's daughter, yet in meekness he chose the reproach of Christ.

Finally, consider the example of Jeremiah. He spoke the truth as it was a burning fire shut up in his bones (Jeremiah 20:9). Other prophets of his day were speaking smooth things (Jeremiah 30:10), but Jeremiah preached the word of God. He became unpopular, isolated, and suffered because of his stand for the truth. Still, in meekness and submission to God, he kept on preaching and teaching the truth. Yes, he was discouraged, but no, he did not quit but continued to meekly serve God.

One characteristic of "the fruit of the Spirit" is meekness. If someone was describing your characteristics, would they include meekness? All of us can grow in this tremendous virtue. So, let us cultivate a spirit of meekness. "Seek ye the LORD, all ye meek of the earth, which have wrought his judgment; seek righteousness, seek meekness: it may be ye shall be hid in the day of the LORD'S anger" (Zephaniah 2:3).
