TOO LATE!

John Shafer – Kearney, Nebraska

It was a day not unlike most. It was a time when the church would be coming together. At least that's what I thought. You see the door was locked and the building had been sold.

I do not remember when it started to happen. I do remember there was so much enthusiasm when we first started meeting. We had a good number of those who attended. We had fellowship outside of our weekly meetings. Everyone could hardly wait until the next meeting time. Why we even had campaigns to invite others. We would go door to door with invitations. We had good gospel meetings. What a joy when someone in the community would visit and an even greater joy when someone was baptized!

Then a few of us started missing services occasionally. No, I do not mean just going out of town and worshipping there, but just too tired or company had come to visit or some other activity that kept me away from attending services. The first few times I was feeling bad but then I found out it just got easier and easier each time to miss.

Today I came just to see what was going on. But it was too late. You see others started following my example and stopped attending too. No, the preaching was sound (except those that stepped on my toes concerning attendance) and what was taught was right out of the Bible. We just all stopped coming because our priorities changed. I never dreamed this day would come in my lifetime.

Then I stopped and looked at my life. It certainly had not been what it should be. I was the one who went from being excited about coming to services to being one who rarely came.

Then I awoke! Had this been nothing but a dream? No, I had awoken to eternity and stood with nothing to say when I was told to go away. Too late!

What will we say on judgment day? What will be said to us?

"Then he said, I pray thee therefore, father, that thou wouldest send him to my father's house: For I have five brethren; that he may testify unto them, lest they also come into this place of torment" (Luke 16:27-28). I am an example only in this lifetime.
